THANK YOU

Brand Foundation

Timeless began with a simple but uncomfortable realization. The most expressive generation in Nigeria has never been the least creative, yet it is constantly dressed in identities built somewhere else. Not out of lack of taste, but out of lack of options that feel intentional, premium and culturally aligned.

What started as observation slowly became frustration, then clarity. Fashion here was either overly generic or heavily imitative. Mass production without identity on one side, imported aspiration on the other. In between both, there was space. A quiet space where something new could exist without trying to copy what already existed.

Timeless was created inside that space.

It is not built to compete with trends or chase validation from outside systems. It is built to give form to something already present, the way young people move, think and express themselves when they are not being boxed in. That is why every piece, every visual and every campaign feels more like a statement of identity than a product launch.

Timeless envisions a future where African streetwear is defined by identity, not imitation. A space where design feels intentional, minimal and deeply rooted in how people actually express themselves, not how they are told to dress.

Over time, the brand grows beyond clothing into a cultural reference point for creative freedom. Built from Nigeria but not confined to it, Timeless represents a global language of style that evolves with the people who wear it. Style Without Limit remains the direction for everything it becomes.

Timeless exists to create expressive, minimal clothing that reflects freedom of identity. The mission is to build a premium fashion brand that lets people express who they are without restriction. Style Without Limit guides everything we create.

Core Values

- Identity Over Trends
- Minimal Intentionality
- Creative Freedom
- Cultural Clarity

Identity Over Trends

We design from self expression, not seasonal hype. Every piece exists to reflect individuality, not follow what is popular.

Minimal Intentionality

Nothing is random. Every detail is reduced to what matters, creating clarity, balance and visual confidence.

Creative Freedom

Style is never fixed. We build with the belief that expression should evolve, shift and surprise without restriction.

Cultural Clarity

Timeless stays grounded in its environment while speaking a global visual language. It is rooted, but never limited.

Goals

Build a recognizable fashion identity that stands as a reference point for modern African streetwear.

Establish a consistent product line that delivers premium quality, minimal design and strong cultural relevance.

Create a loyal community that connects deeply with the philosophy of expressive and unrestricted style.

Expand Timeless into a global fashion presence while staying rooted in its original creative direction.

What We Do

Logo

Our visual identity is the foundation of Timeless. It reflects our core philosophy of Style Without Limit and translates our values into a clear visual language that feels intentional, minimal and expressive.

It is designed to make the brand instantly recognizable, not through noise or excess, but through consistency, emotion and clarity. In a crowded fashion space, it becomes the quiet signature that sets Timeless apart.

Primary Logo

The primary logo of Timeless is the flowing script wordmark. It is written as “Timeless” in a continuous, fluid style that feels expressive, modern and alive. This mark represents the full voice of the brand and is used in moments where identity needs presence and clarity.

It appears across key touchpoints such as campaign visuals, flagship garments and digital branding, carrying the emotional weight of the brand while maintaining a minimal and refined aesthetic.

Elements Overview

he Timeless identity system is built from three core elements: the flowing script wordmark “Timeless”, the submark “Ts.”, and the brand bug. Together, they form a flexible visual language that shifts between full expression, minimal signature, and compact identification depending on context.

The wordmark carries the strongest visual presence and is used in expressive or high-impact applications where the brand needs to feel complete and emotional. The “Ts.” submark functions as the minimal signature, used across garments, packaging and subtle placements where restraint is required.

The brand bug is the most compact form of the identity. It is used in constrained or functional spaces such as digital icons, tags and small-scale applications where clarity and recognition must be maintained at reduced size.

Scaling

The Timeless identity is designed to remain clear and consistent at any size. The wordmark, submark “Ts.”, and brand bug can all be applied across both large and small scale formats without losing recognition or clarity.

At larger scales, the identity feels bold and expressive, creating strong visual presence in campaigns and key brand moments. At smaller scales, it becomes more subtle and reserved, working quietly across packaging, tags and digital details while still remaining identifiable.

Minimum Size

Always use your best judgment when scaling identity elements. Though application size will vary, avoid using each smaller than the following amount.

Logo
Height of 20px

Height of 20px

Height of 20px

Clear Space

When placing additional elements around the identity elements, be sure not to crowd them. Use the following as minimum spacing metrics for each.

Logo

The clear space is equivalent to the height and width of the symbol

Wordmark

The clear space is equivalent to the cap height of the wordmark

Bug

Partnerships

For partnerships or collaborations with other brands, our identity is used alongside others with our co-branding device. The logo and bug best used in black or white colour.

Use the diamond shape from the symbol as the divider between the two logos.

Logo and Colour

Always ensure there is enough contrast between the identity elements and background. On dark colours, use it primarily in light colours and on light colours use it primarily in dark. See the colour section for more detailed information.

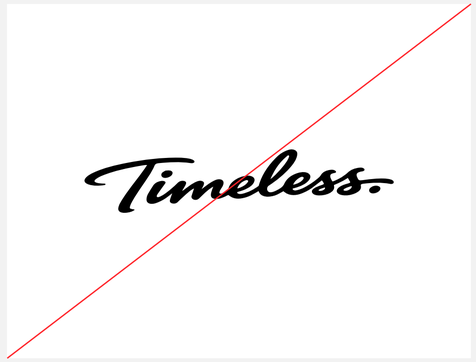
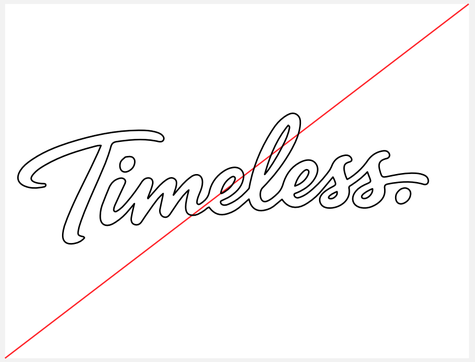
Avoid the following treatments.



Do not stretch or distort

Do not use unapproved colours

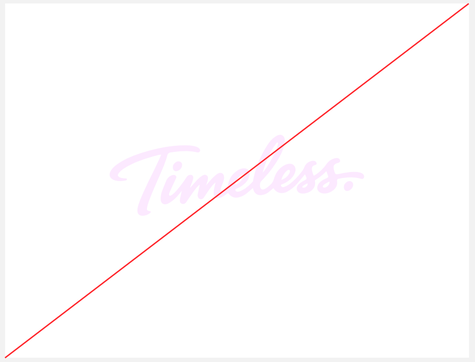


Do not outline

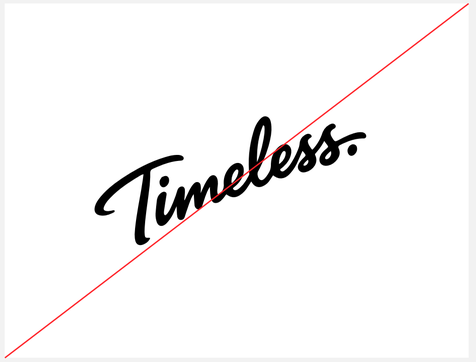
Do not modify logo colour applications

Do not change logo placement

Do not apply effects



Do not use low contrast combinations



Do not rotate

Colour

Colour plays a quiet but powerful role in the Timeless identity. Rather than relying on loud palettes or trend-driven combinations, the brand uses black, white and grayscale to create clarity, contrast and emotional depth.

This restrained colour system gives Timeless its cinematic and minimal character while allowing the identity, typography and styling to remain the focus. Consistent use of these colours across every touchpoint strengthens recognition and preserves the refined visual language of the brand.

Primary Colour

The Timeless palette is built on a monochrome foundation that reflects the brand’s minimal, expressive and cinematic identity. Black, white and grayscale remain the core of the system and should always lead the visual direction of the brand.

As a fashion label, Timeless is also designed with flexibility in mind. While the identity itself stays rooted in monochrome, the brand can naturally adapt across different garment colours, campaign moods and material finishes without losing recognition or consistency.

Typography

Introduction

Typography is one of the strongest expressions of the Timeless identity. Beyond communication, it shapes mood, presence and visual rhythm across the brand. Every type choice is designed to feel intentional, modern and expressive while maintaining clarity and balance.

Timeless uses typography not just to deliver information, but to create atmosphere. Large type, strong hierarchy and spacious layouts work together to guide attention naturally and reinforce the brand’s minimal yet cinematic aesthetic across every touchpoint.

Primary Typeface

Host Grotesk is the primary typeface of the Timeless identity system. It is used across headlines, subheadings and core brand communication to maintain a clear and consistent visual voice.

Chosen for its modern grotesk structure, balanced proportions and clean geometric feel, Host Grotesk reflects the minimal and contemporary nature of the brand. Its strong readability and flexible weight system allow it to move seamlessly between bold editorial layouts and restrained communication while preserving clarity and visual rhythm.

The typeface brings confidence without excess, making it ideal for the cinematic and expressive direction of Timeless.

Host Grotesk

Secondary Typeface

Dragon Inktrap serves as the secondary typeface within the Timeless identity system. Its condensed structure and sharp inktrap detailing introduce tension, movement and visual attitude, making it ideal for bold editorial moments and high impact compositions.

Used primarily for statement headlines, campaign typography and expressive layouts, the typeface adds a futuristic and fashion forward edge while maintaining strong readability. Its distinctive forms create a sense of energy and controlled disruption, reinforcing the experimental and cinematic nature of the Timeless brand.

Dragon Inktrap

Accent Typeface

Great Vibes serves as the accent typeface within the Timeless identity system. Its flowing cursive style introduces softness, emotion and human expression, creating contrast against the structured nature of the primary and secondary typefaces.

Used selectively for emphasis, signatures and expressive moments, the typeface adds elegance and personality without overwhelming the overall visual system. It should always be used with restraint, allowing it to feel intentional, intimate and visually distinctive within the Timeless brand language.

It exists at the intersection of streetwear and contemporary culture, shaped by the belief that personal style should evolve freely without limitation. Every piece and visual direction reflects a balance of clarity, emotion and intention, creating a brand that feels both grounded and expressive. At its core, Timeless represents a new way of thinking about fashion where identity is fluid and style has no final form.

Tracking

Tracking is the overall spacing between characters in a block of text. It plays a significant role in both readability and typographic expression. Our brand uses tight tracking for headlines, subheads, and other large applications, while smaller text should stay between 0 to -10 .

Photography

Photography is a core part of the Timeless identity system. It translates the brand’s philosophy into visual form, capturing mood, movement and emotion through a minimal and cinematic lens.

Every image is intentional. It reflects real people, real presence and real expression while maintaining a refined and editorial tone. The focus is not just on clothing, but on how identity feels in motion.

Timeless photography should feel grounded yet expressive, turning everyday moments into quiet statements of style, confidence and individuality.

Principles

To keep our photography cohesive and high quality, we rely on three guiding principles:

1. Authentic Presence
2. Editorial Clarity
3. Expressive Motion

Use these principles as a checklist when capturing or selecting imagery for the brand. All photos should feel intentional, emotionally grounded and visually refined, capturing identity in motion rather than staged perfection.

Authentic Presence

Editorial Clarity

Expressive Motion

Principle: Authentic Presence

Photography should feel real, unforced and grounded in everyday expression. Use natural light and simple environments such as streets, studios or quiet interiors to keep the mood honest and minimal.

Subjects should feel like real people with natural presence, not overly styled models. The goal is to capture identity as it is, creating a sense of closeness, trust and quiet authenticity.

Principle: Editorial Clarity

Photography should feel intentional and fashion driven, with clean composition, controlled lighting and strong visual balance. Each image should feel like part of a fashion editorial where every detail supports the mood and identity of the brand.

Principle: Expressive Motion

Photography should capture movement, mood and emotion in a way that feels alive and unposed. Even still images should suggest motion, energy and personal expression.

Every frame should reflect identity in action, showing how people exist, move and express themselves within real or styled environments.

Verbal Identity

Our verbal identity defines how Timeless speaks, not just what it says. It shapes tone, rhythm and emotion across every word the brand puts into the world.

Language is kept minimal, intentional and expressive, reflecting the same clarity found in our visual identity. Every message should feel direct yet poetic, carrying meaning without excess while reinforcing the philosophy of Style Without Limit.

The Creator

The Creator archetype fits the brand’s philosophy of shaping identity through imagination, minimal expression and intentional design. It reflects originality, artistic freedom and the drive to turn abstract ideas into tangible form. Timeless does not follow existing style systems, it constructs its own.

Everything the brand does, from clothing to visuals to language, comes from that same instinct to create something new, not repeat something known.

Promise

Timeless promises to give people a space where identity can exist without restriction. Every piece is designed with intention, clarity and expression, allowing individuals to show who they are without compromise.

This promise goes beyond clothing. It is a commitment to consistency, quality and emotional connection, ensuring that every interaction with the brand reflects the philosophy of Style Without Limit.
